

Understanding Climate Change

Climate change refers to long-term shifts in temperatures and weather patterns. These shifts may be natural, but human activities have significantly increased the rate and extent of climate change.

Burning fossil fuels generates greenhouse gas emissions that act like a blanket wrapped around the Earth, trapping heat and causing the planet to warm.

Examples of greenhouse gas emissions that are causing climate change include carbon dioxide and methane.